Almost a Clean Sweep for Republican Tickets

THE REPUBLICANS WIN IN PADUCAH

All But One or Two City Nominees of Democrats Went Down.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY NOMINEES WERE ALL ELECTED YESTERDAY

Every Member of the General Council Will be a Republican After January 1st.

IN THE CITY AND COUNTY.

The vote polled in Paducah and McCracken county yesterday was not as large as the voting indicated for a time yesterday. The Republicans polled about 82 per cent of their vote and the Democrats about 63 per cent. There was a great deal of scratching on part of Democrats, and Democrats had bought up 75 or more registration certificates that the Republican party managers know of.

The average Republican vote in Paducah yesterday was 1300, to 1600 registered votes, and the Democratic 1200, to 2124 registered votes. This is a greater falling off for the Democrats than last year, when they had 2147 votes registered and their average vote was 1676. The Democrats registered 23 votes less this year than last, and cast over 400 votes less than last year.

The Democratic city ticket was defeated on the face of the returns with the exception of Judge D. L. Sanders, for police judge and W. T. Byrd, for school trustee in the Fifth ward. These two Democrats have apparently won by small majorities. It is understood that there are some ballots in dispute, however, which may possibly change the result.

The election of the county Democratic ticket is conceded, the majority being somewhere close to 200.

HOW CZAR YEISER FEELS ABOUT IT.

Mayor Yeiser is taking the defeat good naturedly. He has been joked a great deal today by friendly Republicans and Democrats.

Mayor Yeiser was greatly surprised. At 10 o'clock last night he was figuring the city Democratic ticket a majority of 300 to 400. At that time all the Republican strongholds were in and the Democratic precincts were to hear from. To the astonishment of the Democrats these precincts returned results that struck the Democrats dumbfounded. The majorities were so small that they did not overcome the lead of the Republican strongholds—and the Republican ticket was elected with the exception of Judge D. L. Sanders. The mayor stated last night just previous to the thunderbolt that The Sun could state that the "old gray horse and the milk wagon went all day yesterday and they were never known to be beaten." Mayor Yeiser is a little superstitious and has always driven his gray horse during his campaigns. But yesterday it was "a horse on him," and he acknowledged it like a man. The mayor says he will be in for awhile yet and he has his police commissioners and is drawing his per diem. But he is only smiling while swallowing a bitter pill.

"All I have to say about the election and its results," the mayor declared "is that the Republicans have elected mighty good men. I was just looking over the returns and see that the people have spoken and I shall and am willing to abide by their word."

Chief of Police James Collins, however, did not wear the cheery look of Mayor Yeiser. The chief was ill and wandered about the hall in undisguised misery.

There were a few officials at the city hall who took the election good naturedly, but a few of the radical Democrats say nothing more than "H—!"

SOMEONE SET FIRE TO OFFICER'S HOUSE

Shed Covered With Coal Oil and Ignited Last Night.

Supposed to Have Been Effort to Steal the Ballot Box Which Was Inside His Residence.

IT WAS NOT SECURED, HOWEVER

H. M. Smith, democrat, of 1225 Bernheim avenue, was sheriff at Gallman's precinct yesterday. The precinct went republican by a vote of about 165 to 85.

After the count he took the ballot box and ballots home and retired.
About two o'clock a cab stopped at his house and someone knocked and told him that Judge Berry wanted to see him down town. He replied that if Judge Berry wanted to see him, he could come out there. Judge Berry was not even in the city, so the call is supposed to have been a subterfuge to get Mr. Smith away from home.

In about another hour someone else went to his house and called him to the door, and was ordered away for his pains.

In a short time a neighbor aroused him and told him that his coal house was afire. He locked up the house, went outside and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before much damage was done.

The presence of coal oil on the shed today shows a deliberate attempt to burn the place. Mr. Smith does not know the object of last night's proceeding, but it seems to be the general opinion that it was an effort on part of irresponsible persons to get possession of the ballot box.

Mr. Smith is employed at the Bauer pottery, and this morning delivered the ballot box to the county clerk.

THREE PERISH

While the Crowd is on Roof of San Francisco Newspaper Office.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Fire broke out in the tower of the Chronicle building at midnight. Three employees of the Chronicle evening room are reported to have perished.

Scores of people were on the roof of the building watching the election returns when the fire started at the foot of the tower, cutting off escape except by ropes and ladders which were later provided by the fire department. The building was gutted.

TEN PEOPLE KILLED

In a Railroad Wreck Near Wilkes-barre, Pa.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 8.—A wreck on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western near here today between a passenger and freight, resulted in the death of ten people and injury of sixteen. The engineers and firemen on both trains were killed and some of the other trainmen. When the engines came together the express ploughed through the freight and sent the cars out over the bank into the river.

2,000 BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

Tokio, Nov. 8.—A typhoon yesterday devastated the province of Os-pina and adjacent island, and over two thousand buildings were destroyed. A steamer was wrecked but no loss of life is reported.

COSSACKS KILLED BY BURSTING BOMBS

Over 100 Troopers Slain in a Street Fight Today.

Many Other Disorders in Russia—Jews Killed and Stores Are Burned

MANY ATROCITIES REPORTED

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—A hundred and five Cossacks were killed today in a conflict with rioters at Nasakoirol. The fighting between the people and soldiers continued several hours. Rioters threw bombs at the Cossacks and most of the troopers were killed in this way.

Two Companies Wiped Out.

Kurias, Caucasus, Nov. 8.—Cossacks who were escorting M. Laza-renko, a county official and M. Perkarski, a justice of the peace, were ambushed in Ozurgeti district by the revolutionaries who were fighting the troops sent to restore order.

Two entire companies consisting of 107 and 120 men respectively, were entirely wiped out.

Victims Buried.

Odessa, Nov. 8.—Four hundred and twelve Jews, victims of the massacres of last week, were buried today. The scenes of grief were heart-rending and almost indescribable as the bodies were placed in trenches, each trench containing seventy.

Similar funerals will continue for three days.

Some 240 bodies were in such conditions they could not be recognized.
On each grave wreaths were placed bearing the inscription, "martyrs to the faith—victims of the autocracy."

Witte Reported Assassinated.

New York, Nov. 8.—A rumor is current on the stock exchange at Chicago and London today that Count Witte was assassinated at St. Petersburg, but it could not be confirmed.

Witte's Program.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—Count
Witte has definitely pledged himself to support the plan for convocation of the constituent assembly when the Duma meets if a single representative raises the question. He is exceedingly anxious to win the support of the Zemstvoist party which he does not hesitate to declare conforms nearest to his political ideas and which he evidently regards as the strongest, safest and most influential factor in the future political life of his country.

Two Towns Burned.

London, Nov. 8.—The Burchard correspondent of the Mail says that the atrocities continue in Besarabia.
The towns of Urnat and Calarisse have been burned and all the Jews perished in the flames. Ismaili, the correspondent also says is in flames, and martial law has been declared.
Sixty-six revolutionaries after being warned were shot last night.

News From the Caucasus.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—News from the Caucasus is particularly bad.
Fighting between Armenians, Tartars, and Russians in Daghestan, Kulais, Terk and Kuban districts, assumed a ferocious character and every attempt of the troops to restore order resulted in the population turning upon the soldiers and fighting them with arms and bombs.

Two companies of Cossacks are reported to have been entirely wiped out. Entire trouble is of revolutionary character but it gives the people an hatreds and most horrible atrocities have been committed.
According to a merchant who had just arrived from Baku, the scenes witnessed there were beyond belief and not only murder but torture in all forms has been perpetrated. An Armenian girl's fingers were cut off one by one and afterwards her arms and legs amputated by Tartars and she was allowed to expire in untold agony.

Sworn in For Appellate Court.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 8.—Hon. Jas.
Campbell, Jr., of Paducah, was today sworn in as an attorney of the appellate court.

MANY SURPRISES OVER THE COUNTRY

The Democrats Defeat the Fusionists in Louisville by Good Plurality.

THE RESULTS OF ELECTIONS IN MANY OTHER COUNTIES AND STATES

Reform Sweeps Over Philadelphia—McClelland and Jerome Win in New York.

GENERAL RESULTS IN THE STATE.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—Carefully revised reports from all over the state show that in the next general assembly there will be at least sixty-nine democratic representatives and twenty-three republican representatives, while in cases of eight representatives, they are marked as doubtful, or unreported.

There will be at least sixteen new democratic senators and one new republican senator, while others are unreported and doubtful. There are thirteen democratic holdover senators and five republican holdover senators.

The democrats elected their county tickets in all normally democratic counties, in many close coun es, and in a few strongly republican counties, such as Pulaski and Christian.

The constitutional amendment providing for a return to the viva voce system of voting was overwhelmingly defeated. It required a two-thirds majority of all the votes cast on the question, but it seems to have lost in nearly all the counties reported, while in Louisville and Jefferson county it was defeated by nearly four thousand, the vote on the question being light everywhere.

In Jefferson county less than 10,000 votes out a total about 41,000 were cast on the viva voce question. Matt J. Hennessey, democrat of Brecken county, seems to have defeated J. G. Wadsworth, of Mason, for commonwealth's attorney in the special election in the Nineteenth district. R. L. Stout, of Woodford county, the democratic nominee for circuit judge in the fourteenth judicial district, had no opposition. The only other special election was for state senator in the Third senatorial district where Conn Linn, democrat, of Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—With four small precincts missing, Barth's majority for mayor is 5,055. John M. Letlerie, democrat, is defeated for re-election as representative from Louisville, by Dr. W. M. Smith, republican, by 151 votes.

All other democratic nominees in in Louisville and Jefferson county, were elected.

The official returns from the Forty-eighth legislative district, Sixth and Seventh wards show the election of Emmet Slattery the democratic candidate, over Lee Berheim, his republican opponent who ran on the fusion ticket by a majority of 22 votes.
Unofficial returns received last night favored the election of Bernheim by the scantest of margins. Bernheim formerly lived in Paducah.

Results in Ballard County.

Wickliffe, Ky., Nov. 8.—Wickliffe remains the county seat of Ballard county. The chief issue of the election held in the county yesterday was to decide upon the proposition to remove the county seat and court house to Barlow. The Barlow people lost by a vote of 1146 to 956.

The proposed removal caused much interest and a large vote was polled. People who have not been to the polls in years were on hand to vote for the choice. No trouble of any kind was experienced and despite the expectations of some the day passed quietly.

The election for city officials resulted in the following being elected:
H. Berbling, mayor, and H. F.
Turner, police magistrate. All of the candidates for aldermen on the citizens' ticket were elected.

W. T. White, Democrat, was chosen representative. W. T. Hines, Democrat, county judge. W. A. Hall, Democrat, sheriff. Tom Neeley, Democrat, county clerk.

Cumberland County.

Burkesville, Ky., Nov. 8.—Cumberland county gives W. H. Cole a majority of 800 over G. B. Breeding for representative and L. C. Nail a majority of 800 votes over Tobias Huffaker for state senator. The entire republican county ticket is elected.

Hargis is Defeated.

Jackson, Ky., Nov. 8.—Judge
James Hargis is defeated for re-election as circuit judge by Taulbee republican, by 499.

In Christian County.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 8.—With reports from twenty-six out of twenty-nine precincts and with the missing precincts estimated, Christian county elects W. H. Southall, democrat, to the legislature and the democratic candidates for probably all the offices but county judge.

Democrats Defeated in Livingston.

M. D. Clark, a republican, was elected representative in Livingston county. This information came this morning to Attorney C. C. Grassham, who formerly lived there. He said that the fusion ticket was undoubtedly elected and that this was the first time in Livingston's history that she had repudiated the democratic ticket.

In Trigg County.

Cadiz, Ky., Nov. 8.—Trigg county gave the democratic ticket an estimated majority of 150 to 200. Henry R. Lawrence a democrat, was elected without opposition. Don Linn, a democrat, was elected senator for the Third district, including Trigg, Calloway, Livingston and Lyon counties by a majority of from 250 to 300.

Simpson County.

Franklin, Nov. 8.—Simpson gives
W. J. Gooch, democrat, about 400 votes majority over L. K. Mayhew, republican, for representative. The entire democratic county ticket was elected.

Webster County.

Dixon, Ky., Nov. 8.—Eleven precincts of Webster county give Geo.
W. Stone a majority of 377 votes over T. A. Stewart for representative, and T. S. Maxwell a majority of 357 votes over R. L. Moore for state senator. The entire democratic ticket was elected.

Bowling Green Results.

Bowling Green, Nov. 8.—The city district gives Robertson, democrat a majority of 300 over Collett, fusion.
In the county the district indicates point to the election of Weight, democrat, over Stagner, republican, for representative by a safe majority.

Close in Allen.

Scottsville, Nov. 8.—The race in Allen county is so close it will require the official count to determine the result.

In Rowan County.

Morehead, Ky., Nov. 8.—Rowan gives W. A. Young a majority of 150 votes, estimated over Thomas Barber for representative. The entire republican ticket was elected. Young

MYSTERIOUS CRIME.

Sick Man and His Wife Were Found Dead.

Newberry, Ore., Nov. 8.—Carl Hurford and his wife, a bride of six weeks, who came here from Unionville, Mo., were found dead in their home here by neighbors attracted to the house by the firing of shots.

More or less mystery surrounds the death of the couple.

Hurford, who had worked in a factory here, had been ill several days. Mrs. Hurford visited the factory today and was told her husband's position would be kept open for him. Shortly after she returned to her home a shot was heard and Mrs. Hurford called for help. When neighbors arrived they were dead both having been shot. Whether the tragedy was murder and suicide or a double suicide may never be known.

Theatrical Notes

THE KENTUCKY.

Wednesday evening:

Frank L. Perley's production of Doty & Perley's new musical comedy success, "The Winning Girl," direct from the Garrick theater, St. Louis.

Charles W. Doty, the author of "The Winning Girl," the whirl of mirth that comes to the Kentucky theater tonight, is also the husband of Miss Caroline Hull, one of the principal members of the company. Following the same lines that Cosmo Gordon Lennox, the celebrated English author, has pursued in regard to Marie Tempest, Mr. Doty wrote "The Winning Girl." The idea was to give Miss Hull an opportunity to make a substantial hit, which would elevate her into stardom. The story of the play is interesting by reason of the clever characters introduced. The scenes showing a fashionable manicure parlor in New York, together with the introduction of familiar New York types among the upper circles, are of the kind to maintain interest in the performance from the rise to the fall of the curtain. There is a beautiful love story interwoven which endears the play to the audience because of its virility and wide divergence from the sort we have been accustomed to seeing. A notable cast including Caroline Hull, Charles Ross, Mabel Fenton, Blanche Deyo, Fletcher Norton, Frederic Bond, a prima donna double sextette and a half hundred players will be seen here. The production is one of extreme magnificence, and requires two baggage cars to transport it. A number of cross country jumpers, and a pack of fox hounds are also used.

Clyde Fitch's biggest popular success, "The Woman in the Case," is of more than passing importance, for it will undoubtedly furnish a tremendous encouragement to our native dramatists. "The Woman in the Case" will be presented here in the near future by one of the best companies yet sent on tour by the well-known firm of Wagenhals & Klemperer. It includes Margaret Eulalie Bennett, Thomas Coffin Cooke, Albert Brown, William Cullington and Miss Hope Latham.

The Woodruff blew up the wreck of the Hudson that was burned above Cincinnati sometime ago.

There has been another little swell in the upper Ohio, but it does not amount to much of a rise.

KILLED NEIGHBOR

And the Jury Gave Him a Life Sentence.

Hatlock, Minn., Nov. 8.—The jury in the Reeves murder trial returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. The defendant was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Reeves was convicted of killing Swanson, a neighbor, who called at the former's place to protest against invasion of his land by cattle.

Wilson—What do you think of government ownership? Gilson—Well, I should approve of it heartily if I had anything that I wanted the government to buy.—Somerville Journal.

SIMPLY DELIGHTED.

Was Cairo With The Winning Girl.

The Winning Girl company arrived from Cairo this morning and is composed of a fine looking lot of people. The Cairo Bulletin of today said of the performance there last night: Quite the daintiest yet wholesome and invigorating musical comedy piece ever seen in Cairo was "The Winning Girl," which was greeted by a large audience last night.

The comedy in it is spontaneous and kept the house in an uproar all the time. The piece is unusually well written and abounds in bright lines and clever sayings. The music is pretty and some of it very tuneful. There is a freshness, a swing and a go about the piece that is enough to put it in a class distinctly by itself, but in addition to this there is really a plot that is well developed and interesting.

The bright and particular star of the piece is Miss Caroline Hull but the work of Mable Fenton, Charles J. Ross, Fred Bond and Blanche Deyo, is deserving of more than passing notice. Especially is this so of Miss Deyo, who is without doubt the most graceful little dancer that ever set foot on the local stage.

"The Winning Girl" is in every way a noteworthy attraction. It goes into city houses after this week for long runs, opening at the Studebaker in Chicago Monday.

The company is too heavy to drag around one night stands and is simply being played at a few places en route to Chicago, whence it goes to New York for a long run. The management guarantees the public that no performance ever seen at The Kentucky was better or funnier than this will be, and the public should avail itself of the chance to see a real big city show with an all star cast.

Money in Timber Lands.

Fortunes have been made, (and can easily be made today,) by buying Arkansas rich river bottom land, heavily covered with timber, at a nominal price, holding the land for a few years and then selling the timber at twice the price the land and timber both cost, and then have the land cleared and sell it for five times the original purchase price and sometimes ten times the cost. We have a proposition of this kind in 1600 acres of land in Arkansas at only $3.50 per acre. One-third cash, balance 1 and 2 years, at 6 per cent. This land when cleared will rent for $5.00 per acre per year. Full particulars on request. Edgar W. Whittemore Real Estate Agency, Fraternity Building Both phones 835.

FAMILY CARES.

This Information May Be of Value to Many a Mother in Paducah.

When there is added to the many cares inseparable from the rearing of children that affliction of weakness of the kidneys and auxiliary organs the mother's lot is far from a happy one. This condition can be quickly changed and absolutely cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. When this is known the mother's burden will be lighter and her home happier.

T. G. Elder, of 1801 Monroe street, carpenter at the Illinois Central railroad, says: "A friend of mine who had procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Alvey & List's drug store and used them in his family recommended them so highly that I gave a little girl of ours, 10 years of age, a course of the treatment. We had given her so much medicine for kidney weakness that she absolutely refused to take anything, but finally coaxing succeeded. Before she completed the use of two boxes we stopped giving her the remedy because she no longer required it."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

LOOPED THE GAP

And Now the Pallbearers Are Being Selected.

Columbus, O., Nov. 8.—Luke Howard, of this city, was fatally injured at Sellersville, near Columbus, while "looping the gap" in an automobile. Howard has been experimenting for several months, and his feat of guiding the automobile, which ran down an incline and turned completely over in leaping a gap between the incline and a platform, was successfully accomplished a number of times. This afternoon, when the machine had gone safely through its evolutions, it bounded up after landing and turned over, falling upon Howard and breaking his back. The injured man was removed to a hospital and physicians say he cannot recover.

CURES CATARRH AND ASTHMA.

Foreign Specialists Give Reason for Marvelous Success of New Remedy Ascatoc.

Vienna, Nov. 8.—The astonishing success of the ascatoc treatment for catarrh, asthma and bronchitis is wholly attributed to its marvelous action on the mucous membranes and having no disturbing influence on organs of the body.

It is claimed by European savants, from whom this remedy emanated, that 500 drops will permanently cure even the most obstinate case. The dose is small and pleasant to take, being only seven drops twice daily. The Austrian dispensary, 32 West 25th street, New York City, will send a trial treatment of ascatoc free by mail to all sufferers who have not tested the wonderful curative powers of this specific.

DRAGGING PAINS?

Women suffer agonies from pains of which men have no comprehension. One of these is that awful, bearing-down or dragging pain, which so often, in some women, forms a part of the monthly sickness, and in others continues from month to month, week to week, day to day, till death itself would often be welcomed as a relief. What does it mean? It means, probably, that your womb is bent, twisted, turned inside out, or falling down, as a result of a certain weakness of those muscular fibers, which are supposed to keep it straight and hold it in place. It means, that if you do not take immediate steps to cure this trouble you may become an invalid for life. It means, that you must lose no time, but go for relief and cure, to the one medicine which will be sure to benefit and cure you, as it has benefited and cured a million other happy, rejoicing women, viz:

ALLEGED MURDERER
GIVEN 14 YEARS

Bill Singleton Convicted at Tiptonville, Tenn.

Yesterday's Election at Metropolis Was Quiet—Those Who Were Elected.

SOME OTHER METROPOLIS NEWS

Metropolis, Ill., Nov. 8.—A telephone message from Tiptonville, Tenn., yesterday conveyed the information that Bill Singleton, who murdered Hal Munn last winter, had been given a sentence of 14 years to be served in the Tennessee coal mines operated by that state by convict labor. The crime for which Singleton was sentenced was a most atrocious one and from eye-witnesses was without provocation. He and Munn left this town about a year ago to work for a timber company who were securing stock for a pulp mill. One night Singleton, who was drinking, raised a disturbance in the camp and from some cause became incensed at Munn, but friends succeeded to coaxing him away to his own tent and all trouble was thought to be over. A short time later, it is alleged, Singleton came to Munn's tent and thrusting a pistol through a hole in the canvas, fired at and killed him (Munn). Both were young men and left this city the best of friends. Singleton pleaded guilty and threw himself upon the mercy of the court.

A reception was given Dr. Besse, the new Methodist preacher, and family, at the parsonage last night by the ladies of the congregation. Each member present brought some substantial acknowledgement of their esteem and welcome to the city.

Yesterday's election was a quiet affair. A traveling man seeing so many business houses closed—Metropolis has thirteen saloons—and he having overlooked the fact that it was Tuesday after the first Monday, and seeing so few people on the streets, asked if some noted person was dead and if the town was doing him honor. The only offices to be filled were those of county clerk, unexpired term of one year; four justices of the peace, four constables and one county commissioner. The winners are: County clerk, Will Atwell; justices of the peace, Thomas Liggett, William Wright, Charles Bigfield, S. L. Wells; constables, J. H. Mizell, Noah Critchlow, W. N. Kelley, Otto Schmidt; county commissioner, W. D. Thompson.

Vivian, the little daughter of Percy Ingram, was badly hurt Monday by a door slamming and catching the little one's thumb in a crack, badly mashing it.

Mrs. Fred Aichnor is able to be out after a 90 days' illness from malarial fever, during which period her life was many times despaired of.

D. F. Dickey, formerly in the dairy business, has accepted a position with A. J. Gibbons.

Ex-Policeman Wm Smith was arrested in St. Louis and brought back to the city yesterday by Sheriff Ed. Smith on a warrant charging him with wife and baby abandonment. He was tried before Judge Wells and acquitted.

Charles Whelan, of Wisconsin, a noted M. W. A. lecturer, will address the people of Metropolis at the courthouse Monday night on Woodcraft. Mr. Whelan has the reputation of being a most interesting and instructive speaker and Metropolis citizens should hear him. No admission.

Joe Prieto and wife, of Union City, Tenn., are visiting Henry J. Humma and family.

J. R. Thompson of Union City, Tenn. is here visiting the Howard and Humma families.

Chief of Police James L. Munn returned today from Tiptonville, Tenn., where he went to attend the trial of Bill Singleton.

Terrific Race With Death.
"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. So wonderful was their effect that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at W. B. McPherson's drug store; price 50c.

Hotel Man Returns.

EARLY VEGETABLES

Will Be the Subject for a Meeting of Farmers to Be Held.

A meeting of farmers in this vicinity is to be held in December or January at the instance of Secretary D. W. Coons, of the Commercial club, to discuss the advisability of raising early vegetables for the market, and it is hoped to interest the farmers in the project. Secretary Coons thinks that it can be demonstrated to growers that to raise garden truck on a large scale can be made very profitable, as all that cannot be disposed of here can be shipped at good prices to supply the growing demand in the big cities.

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD.

Also a Few Facts On the Same Subject.

We hear much nowadays about health foods and hygienic living, about vegetarianism and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the larger cities where no meat, pastry or coffee is served and the food cranks in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors, who lived four-score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind, from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grain.

Dr. Julius Remmon, on this subject, says: "Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use."

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspepsia should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures, are useless for indigestion, as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food, and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

Cigar Store Closed.

Taylor Fisher, the tobaccoist on Broadway between Third and Fourth streets, was closed up today by Sheriff Lee Potter on an order of court in a judgment for $127.92, which the A. K. K. Drug company claims that Fisher owes the firm. A few days ago it was ordered in the bankruptcy court that Fisher pay to the trustee of Henry Grace $850, alleged to be due on the stock that Fisher bought from Grace. It is also claimed that this sum had not been paid also. Taylor Fisher is also said to have given bond for $1,020 for the Brown & Shelton stock, which he purchased. Attorney W. V. Eaton had a claim against Fisher for $135.63 for Strauss, of Cincinnati.
Attorney W. V. Eaton stated this afternoon that Taylor Fisher had decided to take the bankruptcy law and would at once file a petition stating his liabilities and assets.

Magisterial Races.

In the races for magistrate and constable, unofficial and incomplete returns indicate the election of three and possibly four Republican magistrates.

From present indications Mr. John J. Bleich defeats Justice Jesse Young in the Second district by a vote of about 332 to 324, with two other and possibly three races similar. It is believed that the Republicans have elected George Broadfoot in the First district, Bleich in the Second, W. E. Lane in the Fifth, and W. A. H. Dunaway in the Sixth. If it prove that four are elected it will tie the Democrats in fiscal court and prevent an exorbitant tax rate and county road extravagance.

Representative's Race.

In the race for representative the vote is:
Head 1402 in city and 847 in county, a total of 2249.

Farley, 1372 in the city, 494 in the county, total 1866.

Four precincts are to be heard from in this race, Maxon's, Grahamville, Rossington and Lamont. Head's majority is estimated at 500.

County Judge's Race.

The election of Judge R. T. Lightfoot for county judge is conceded by at least 250, probably more. The vote this afternoon was Lightfoot 2012, Bagby 1840, with seven county precincts to hear from, which will increase Lightfoot's majority.

Other County Races.

It is impossible to get complete returns from the county precincts. The election of all the Democratic nominees for county offices, however, is conceded by majorities ranging from 300 to 450 or 500. It will require the official count to decide the exact majorities.

By TROY ALLISON

Copyright, 1936, by T. C. McClure

Melissa chewed her pen staff in pretended meditation and kept one eye on Dicky Johnston.

Dicky had shown signs of wandering away from the fold and must be brought back. It was decidedly against Melissa's creed to allow another girl to receive even an iota of admiration from one of her coterie.

There was a girl belonging to the house party, a blond, Melissa thought contemptuously, who had received entirely too much attention from Dicky.

Therefore he must be disciplined. His lesson must be decided at once and to the point. Having decided upon this, Melissa gave her pen one conclusive nibble and commenced writing hurriedly.

"I KNOW IT WAS A JOKE," HE RESUMED.

As there happened to be no one in the library at the time except Dicky and herself, his attention was soon attracted by the aggressive scratching of her pen.

"Why don't you stop and amuse a fellow?" he urged. "What are you writing?"

"Oh, just writing," she replied airily, her tone insinuating that there were subjects beyond his comprehension.

"To a man?" he asked sulkily.

"A very charming man," she assured him impressively. "It's rather an important communication," she continued. "I wish you would look over this page and see if it is too stilted."

Dicky took it up with relieved alacrity, but his face lengthened visibly as he read:

"I have decided that I will marry you. I don't know why I hesitated. If you can get away from town for a day take the Ederton local for Mrs. Winberly's country place, and you can tell me if you're glad I didn't keep you waiting any longer."

Dicky handed it back and commenced a study of the library fire.

"I don't see how any one could possibly call that stilted," he growled.

Melissa signed the note, sealed it and directed it to Dr. John Hartly.

Considering the fact that Dr. Hartly was only a very casual acquaintance and had never asked Melissa to marry him nor had she ever dreamed of his asking her to do so, this literary achievement might be regarded as rather theatrical.

She gathered up her writing materials, slipped the letter into her writing pad and started for the door. Stopping a minute to fluff up her brown pompadour, she fixed a reproachful eye upon the object of her vengeance.

"I never would have thought, Dicky,"—there were volumes of surprise in her voice—"that you would have cared anything at all for blonds." She went out and shut the door rather decidedly.

As she crossed the hall the letter slipped out and fell to the floor, making no sound on the soft rug. She went upstairs, unconscious of her loss, smiling in anticipation of the interview she would have with Dicky when his repentance had reached a proper depth. It was Melissa's theory, gained in her twenty years, that men needed to be taught lessons occasionally. When Dicky had learned his lesson she would acknowledge that she had not yet sent the letter, but was keeping it for further consideration.

The footman, coming for the letter bag a few minutes later, was unconscious of the inner workings of Melissa's mind. He picked up her letter and posted it with the others.

Two evenings later the maid brought Melissa Dr. Hartly's card. "I took him to the library, miss. He said he could only stay a few minutes and wanted to see you alone."

Melissa went downstairs, her forehead puckered into a wondering frown. She could not imagine why Dr. Hartly had come to Ederton to talk with her about anything.

He came forward to meet her, and she felt a little constrained in her greeting of this man of forty, who seemed so different from Dicky and the others.

"I'm so glad you decided to marry me," he said cordially, his eyes twinkling. "I hoped some woman would some day. You see, I have been so busy—I rather neglected it."

Melissa gasped with astonishment. "Who said anything about my marrying you?" she finally managed to say, her eyes round with surprise.

He took her note from his inside pocket, adjusted his eyeglasses and looked at it carefully.

"I certainly hope I have not been mistaken," he said, handing it to her. Two large tears rolled down her cheek. "I don't know how on earth I thought this was upstairs in my writing pad," she said miserably. "It was just a joke to tease Dicky. I—oh, I never was so ashamed in my whole life!" she said, dropping into a big library chair and hiding her face against its back.

He walked behind the chair and, leaning on it, looked down smilingly upon the brown head that rose and fell with each sob.

"I knew there was some kind of joke connected with it, child," he said soothingly. "There was obliged to be some joke about the fact that a girl your age would dream of marrying an old man like me."

"I don't think you are—old," came in muffled tones from the padded back of the chair.

"I knew it was a joke," he resumed, "but it seemed rather—pleasant. Somehow I had an irresistible desire to come and see why you did it."

Melissa's face was still hidden.

"I wouldn't have you feel mortified about it for the world," leaning over until his lips touched a stray tress of her hair that shone red brown on the black leather chair back. "I am twice as old as you, little girl, but I am young enough to understand a joke. Do you feel all right about it now?"

The brown head nodded in a comforted manner.

"And yet, Melissa, I can't help realizing how nice it would be—if it were not a joke. If there ever comes a day when you could possibly mean it, won't you send it back?"

The figure was as still as the chair that held it, and Hartly sighed as he turned off.

"Never mind. Of course you could not. I'll say goodbye now and catch the 9 o'clock train for town. Won't you shake hands to show we understand each other?"

Melissa blindly held out a wavering hand that he grasped in his big one.

His expression changed with lightning rapidity, for there could be no doubt about it—the girl had gently pressed into his palm the note that had been concealed in her hand.

"Melissa!" he exclaimed unbelievably, seating himself upon the arm of the big chair.

Prepared For Emergencies.

A well to do Kentucky farmer once invited an acquaintance from a neighboring town to dine with him. The recipient of this courtesy was a man well known in that region for his general crankiness and his propensity to use his gun at the least evidence of what he considered an affront.

The farmer, well aware of the touchiness of his guest, with whom, for business reasons, he desired to remain on good terms, always kept a wary eye on his visitor. One afternoon the testy individual in conversation with his host remarked: "I can't account for the queer feelings and impulses that come over me at times. Do you know, the first time I took dinner here I had as much as I could do to master the impulse when one of your sons made a certain remark to whip out my gun and let go." "Oh, don't you worry about that," said the farmer. "I know all about your little failing in that line. My son Jake was standin' in the hallway just back of you with a shotgun. You did well to change your mind. At the first motion toward your hip pocket my son Jake had instructions to blow daylight through you!"

Neighbors, After All.

The wealthy man had told the visitor who was soliciting money for foreign missions that he preferred to help the heathen next door. "I want what I give to benefit my neighbors," said he. The Philadelphia Ledger says the visitor's face took on a look of mild inspiration.

"Whom do you regard as your neighbors?" he asked.

"Why, those around me."

"Do you mean those whose land joins yours?"

"Well—yes."

"How much land do you hold?"

"About 500 acres."

"And how far through the earth do you think you own?"

"Why, I've never thought of it before, but I suppose I own half way down."

"Precisely," said the man who was soliciting aid, with an air of calm triumph. "I suppose you do, and I want this money for your neighbors at the other side of the world—the men whose land adjoins yours at the bottom."

"You're a really reckoner," said the millionaire dryly, but he drew his check book toward him.

Disinherited.

They tell a story in Paris of Pierre Wolff, the dramatist, nephew of Albert Wolff, the critic and sworn enemy of the manager Antoine. When Pierre took his first piece to Antoine it was accepted on condition that he should put into it "as much as possible of everything that is abominable to your uncle, the critic." He did this with such good will that he scandalized his uncle, the public, the stage firemen, the dressers, the prompter and M. Antoine himself, who went about at rehearsal rubbing his hands and saying, "One cannot go too far, and no one shall keep me from putting in the advertisements."

"Play by Pierre Wolff, nephew of Albert Wolff!" When the dramatist called on his uncle, Albert shouted, "Miserable! If I had a fortune I'd disinherit you!" "Disinherit me all the same," suggested the nephew. "It will advertise me."

"Very well, then. I have nothing to leave, so I won't leave it to you!"

MUST BE REPAIRED.

The Warren Not in the Best of Condition.

After the inspection of the steamer Warren yesterday afternoon by Inspectors Green and McDonald, of Nashville, Tenn., she was ordered repaired.

The boat is owned by Capt. Massey of Burnside, Ky., and she has been running in the Cairo trade, but later in the Evansville trade with Capt. Douglas Jones in command. The Warren is a small boat and was found alright by the inspectors until they came to the hull. They found rotten plank in her sides and in her head, which really unfit her for safe business and she was ordered repaired or laid up.

The Ohio and Tennessee River Packet company, which operated the Warren under contract, is trying to get the J. W. Thomas, a fine packet steamer similar to the Fowler line boats, but it is not certain that she will be secured. If she is not an attempt will be made to get another boat. Capt. Jones will be in command of any boat the company secures.

CHAPTER IX.

IT is best not to repeat the expressions Brewster used regarding one S. Jones after reading this telegram. But he felt considerably relieved after he had uttered them. He fell to reading accounts of the big prize fight which was to take place in San Francisco that evening. He revealed in the descriptions of "upper cuts" and "left hooks" and learned incidentally that the affair was to be quite one sided. A local amateur was to box a champion. Quick to see an opportunity and enjoining himself into the belief that Sweeney Jones could not object to such a display of sportsmanship, Brewster made Harrison book several good wagers on the result. He intimated that he had reason to believe that the favorite would lose. Harrison soon placed $3,000 on his man. The young financier felt so sure of the result that he entered the bets on the profit side of his ledger the moment he received Harrison's report.

This done, he telephoned to Miss Drew. She was not insensible to the significance of his inquiry if she would be in that afternoon. She had observed in him of late a condition of uneasiness, supplemented by moroseness and occasional periods of irascibility. Every girl whose occupation in life is the study of men recognizes these symptoms and knows how to treat them. Barbara had dealt with many men afflicted in this manner, and the flutter of anticipation that came with his urgent plea to see her was tempered by experience. It had something of joy in it, for she cared enough for Montgomery Brewster to have made her anxiously uncertain of his state of mind. She cared, indeed, much more than she intended to confess at the outset.

It was nearly half past 5 when he came, and for once the philosophical Miss Drew felt a little irritation. So certain was she of his object in coming that his tardiness was a trifle troubling. He apologized for being late and succeeded in banishing the plague that possessed her. It was naturally impossible for him to share all his secrets with her, and that is why he did not tell her that Grant & Ripley had called him up to report the receipt of a telegram from Sweeney Jones, in which the gentleman arrogantly said he could feed the whole state of

"I love you, Babs," he cried, Montana for less than $6,000. Beyond that there was no comment. Brewster in dire trepidation hastened to the office of his attorneys. They smiled when he burst in upon them.

"Good heavens!" he exclaimed. "Does the miserly old haysend expect me to spend a million for newspapers, cigarettes and Boston terriers? I thought he would be reasonable!"

"He evidently has seen the newspaper accounts of your dinner, and this is merely his comment," said Mr. Ripley.

"It's either a warning or else he's ambiguous in his compliments," growled Brewster disgustedly.

"I don't believe he disapproved, Mr. Brewster. In the west the old gentleman is widely known as a wit."

"A wit, eh? Then he'll appreciate an answer from me. Have you a telegraph blank, Mr. Grant?"

Two minutes later the following telegram to Sweeney Jones was awaiting the arrival of a messenger boy and Brewster was blandly assuring Messrs. Grant & Ripley that he did not care a rap for the consequences:

New York, Oct. 23. 1—Sweeney Jones, Borte, Mont.: No doubt you could do for less than six thousand. Montana is regarded as the best grazing country in the world, but we don't eat that sort of stuff in New York. That's why it costs more to live here.

MONTGOMERY BREWSTER.

Just before leaving his apartments for Miss Drew's home he received this response from faraway Montana:

Butte, Mont., Oct. 23. 1—Montgomery Brewster, New York: We are 8,000 feet above the level of the sea. I suppose that's why it costs us less to live here.

S. JONES.

"I was beginning to despair, Monty," said Miss Drew reproachfully when he had come down from the height of his exasperation and remembered that there were things of more importance.

glanced around the room, uncertain how to begin. It was not so easy as he had imagined.

"You are very good to see me," he said at last. "It was absolutely necessary for me to talk to you this evening. I could not have endured the suspense any longer. Barbara, I've spent three or four sleepless nights on your account. Will it spoil your evening if I tell you in plain words what you already know? It won't bother you, will it?" he demanded.

"What do you mean, Monty?" she begged, purposely dense and with wonderful control of her eyes.

"I love you, Babs," he cried. "I thought you knew about it all along or I should have told you before. That's why I haven't slept. The fear that you may not care for me has driven me nearly to distraction. It couldn't go on any longer. I must know today."

There was a gleam in his eyes that made her pose of indifference difficult. The fervor of his half whispered words took possession of her. She had expected sentiment of such a different character that his frank confession disarmed her completely. Beneath his ardent, abrupt plea there was assurance, the confidence of one who is not to be denied. It was not what he had said, but the way he had said it. A wave of exultation swept over her, tingling through every nerve. Under the spell her resolution to daily lightly with his emotion suffered a check that almost brought ignominious surrender. Both of her hands were clasped in his when he exultingly resumed the charge against her heart, but she was rapidly regaining control of her emotions, and he did not know that he was losing ground with each step he took forward. Barbara Drew loved Brewster, but she was going to make him pay dearly for the brief lapse her composure had experienced. When next she spoke she was again the Miss Drew who had been trained in the ways of the world, and not the young girl in love.

"I care for you a great deal, Monty," she said, "but I'm wondering whether I care enough to—marry you."

"We haven't known each other very long, Babs," he said tenderly, "but I think we know each other well enough to be beyond wondering."

"It is like you to manage the whole thing," she said chidingly. "Can't you give me time to convince myself that I love you as you would like and as I must love if I expect to be happy with the man I marry?"

"I forgot myself," he said humbly. "You forgot me," she protested gently, touched by this sign of contrition.

"I do care for you, Monty, but don't you see it's a little thing you ask of me? I must be sure—very sure—before I—before—"

"Don't be so distressed," he pleaded. "You will love me, I know, because you love me now. This means much to me, but it means more to you. You are the woman, and you are the one whose happiness should be considered. I can live only in the hope that when I come to you again with this same story and this same question you'll not be afraid to trust yourself to me."

"You deserve to be happy for that, Monty," she said earnestly, and it was with difficulty that she kept her eyes from wavering as they looked into

"I love you, Babs," he cried, Montana for less than $6,000. Beyond that there was no comment. Brewster in dire trepidation hastened to the office of his attorneys. They smiled when he burst in upon them.

COMPLAINTS CAUSED

CITY VISITED BY CHARACTERISTIC AFFLICTION, SAYS PAYNE.

Of the thousands of people who have called on Payne and his assistants in this city, it is said that a majority was suffering with stomach troubles in different forms.

Payne explained that in each city visited, some particular ailment is prevalent. In some parts of the country many are afflicted with rheumatism, while in other places, catarrh and liver and kidney disorders cause most of the suffering. But in Paducah it is said that it is stomach trouble that claims many victims. The afflictions that are common to different parts of the country Payne explained, are due to climatic conditions and the people's habits of living.

During Payne's visit in this city there were hundreds of callers who told about what they had suffered because of stomach trouble.

Of the stories told by those who called yesterday the statement made by John Meyer will give an idea of the work that the Payne's remedies are accomplishing:

"I have been suffering for some time with stomach trouble, which gradually grew worse. I felt weak and nervous and I had a coated tongue and bad taste in my mouth most of the time. I frequently woke up in the morning after tossing most of the night feeling more tired than when I went to bed. A few days ago I decided to try the Payne remedies and I bought some of the New Discovery. My improvement began almost with the first dose and now I feel better than I have for years."

Another interesting story was told by Henry Korb, who said: "For a number of years I had been troubled with rheumatism and my joints were swollen and painful. I had tried many remedies and received little benefit. Then I bought some of the Payne preparations and almost as soon as I began to use the medicine I was relieved. Within two weeks the swelling was gone and the pain had left me and I feel better than I had for a long while."

Payne's remedies can be obtained at all hours at Smith & Nagel's, 4th and Broadway.

his.

"You will let me try to make you love me?" he asked eagerly.

"I may not be worth the struggle."

"I'll take that chance," he replied.

She was conscious of disappointment after he was gone. He had not pleaded as ardently as she had expected and desired, and, try as she would, she could not banish the touch of irritation that had come to haunt her for the night.

Brewster walked to the club, elated that he had at least made a beginning. His position was now clear. Besides losing a fortune he must win Barbara in open competition.

At the theater that evening he met Harrison, who was in a state of jubilation.

"Where did you get that tip?" asked he.

"Tip? What tip?" from Brewster.

"On the prize fight."

Brewster's face fell, and something cold crept over him.

"How did—that was the result?" he asked, sure of the answer.

"Haven't you heard? Your man knocked him out in the fifth round—surprised everybody."

UGLY BLAZE

At the Home of Mr. George C. Thompson, on Broadway.

The fire departments were called out last night about 8 o'clock to fight a fire at the home of Mr. George C. Thompson, at Broadway and Fourteenth streets. The blaze originated apparently from a defective flue, and was confined principally to the attic. The roof was damaged and the household goods were damaged.

Mr. Thompson was upstairs and had to escape from a portico down a ladder placed for him by the firemen. The damage will probably amount to $1,200, the loss being fully covered by insurance.

O O O O O O O O O O O O

Bishop E. E. Hoss, of the M. E. church South, who has recently returned from holding the Brazilian conference in gratitude for good treatment from the government officials in Brazil, makes this acknowledgment:

"From our ambassador, Mr. Thompson, to whom I had a special letter from Secretary Taft, and from our consul-general, Mr. Seeger, I received many courtesies. The former is a Nebraskan, large of frame, with a cordial, straightforward way about him. It did not surprise me to learn that he is recognized as the business man in the diplomatic corps. The latter is from Chicago, though born a German. The intensity of his Americanism comes out on all occasions. He is much opposed to allowing unrestricted immigration into the United States, on the ground that it brings us a great deal of undesirable material and cannot fail to lower the general standard of citizenship among us. To hear such views from one who is himself of alien origin makes a native American wonder whether our rulers really comprehend all that is involved in opening our gates so wide for the reception of people from other lands. I was also the guest for a season of Dr. Fordham, whose wife is the daughter of that most admirable gentleman, Dr. J. W. Bachman, an ex-Confederate soldier, a Methodist always, and an upright and simple-minded Christian in the face of hardships and difficulties. His whole family have proved steadfast to the church and to Christ and a tower of strength to us. Dr. Fordham is a Presbyterian but affiliates with us because there is nothing better in sight."

USED HIS TOE

To Pull Trigger and Blow His Head Off.

Clarksville, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Sam J. Warfield, a prominent farmer of this county, committed suicide about daylight at his home, near St. Bethlehem. He used a shotgun, and his head was almost blown from his body. He tied a string to his toe and to the trigger of a shotgun, which he placed on a chair near his bed. The muzzle of the gun was placed behind his ear and the trigger pulled with his toe. He died almost instantly. He had been despondent several days and was greatly depressed over money matters. He was about sixty years old and a brother of the Hon. C. P. Warfield and George Warfield, of this city.

Constipation.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaint have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Herbine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. ## BOATS BURNED.

Tug Destroyed at New Orleans and Steamboat on the Upper Ohio.

The tugboat Baton Rouge Beele, owned by the Bisso Coal Boat company, was burned to the water's edge. The hull and machinery were saved by the splendid work of the crew of the vessel, who were ashore at the time, but quickly responded to the alarm. The Baton Rouge Belle was valued at $12,000 and was damaged to the extent of $7,000. This loss is not covered by insurance. Capt. Joseph A. Bisso says that the boat will be rebuilt at once. The vessel was one of the swiftest and most powerful of the river tugs in this port and has been in almost constant use for some time. The tug was built in Pittsburg originally brought to New Orleans, and practically rebuilt some six years ago. It is not known how the fire originated.

The Grace Virginia, plying between New Matamoras, Ohio, and Friendly, W. Va., and one of the oldest boats on the Ohio river, valued at $6,000, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The fire is believed to have been caused by a spark from a railroad engine while the vessel was moored, as usual, at the Friendly landing. The boat was in good condition, despite its age. Another boat will be placed in commission at once.

BRILLIANT WEDDING OF SOCIETY LEADERS

Mr. Saunders Fowler and Miss Martha Leech Married.

A Large Crowd Witnessed the Ceremony at 8:30 Last Evening

MANY HANDSOME PRESENTS.

Beautiful in every detail of its setting and effect was the wedding of Miss Martha Elizabeth Leech and Mr. Saunders A. Fowler last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Armour Gardner on Fountain avenue. The prominence and popularity of the couple made it an event of more than usual social interest and the picturesque setting lent it an additional charm. The house was most attractive with its garlands of southern smilax and white and pink chrysanthemums in gorgeous profusion. The white and pink color-motif was carried out most effectively in all the decorations. The ceremony was solemnized in the front parlor, a room decidedly French in its artistic coloring which harmonized with the flower-effect. The feature of the room was a beautiful altar with the chancel rail and cushion of white, banked with palms and white chrysanthemums. The white ribbons were carried from the stairway in the reception hall to the altar, forming an aisle for the bridal party to pass down. The artistic wedding music was played by Mr. Harry Gilbert who rendered the Mendelssohn march as a prelude, and "Simple Confession" during the ceremony.

The marriage procession down the stairway to the chancel was led by the ushers: Mr. Richard Rudy, Mr. Gus Thompson, Dr. William Christian of Cincinnati, and Dr. Fred Cartwright of Bowling Green. They were followed by Mrs. Frank Graham of Memphis, the matron of honor, and Miss Ruth Kelley of Springfield, O. The groom came with his best man Mr. William M. Rieke and the maid of honor Miss Louise Cox immediately preceded the bride, who was with her brother Mr. Thomas C. Leech. The marriage ceremony was said by the Rev. T. J. Newell of the Broadway Methodist church in a most impressive manner.

The bride who is one of the most beautiful and effective looking girl in Paducah, was more than usually lovely in an exquisite imported gown of white embroidered chiffon. She wore the bridal veil and carried a chataine bouquet of bride roses.

The maid of honor was very charming in pink chiffon over silk and a wreath of smilax, and carried the large pink chrysanthemums. The matron of honor, Mrs. Graham, was handsomely gowned in white brocaded satin and duchess lace, and Miss Kelley wore a pretty creation of white lace over spangled net. They both wore the smilax wreaths and carried the pink chrysanthemums.

More than 200 guests witnessed the ceremony and were present at the reception following. The bridal party and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Isaac M. Peters of Memphis; Mrs. George Foss, of Baton Rouge, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leech, Mrs. John P. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Pearson Noble, Mr. Charles Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, Miss Claribel Rieke, Miss Carrie Rieke, Mrs. Virgie McQuot, Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, Miss Irene Scott, Miss Rubie Corbett and others. A delightful two-course luncheon with the ices and cakes in the white and pink effect, was served in the dining room which was prettily decorated in pink chrysanthemums and smilax. Punch was served in the alcove in the down-stairs hall and Mrs. Thomas C. Leech gracefully presided over the bowl. Mrs. Thomas Leech, a handsome imported gown of Brussels lace and gold embroidery over satin with Roman pearls. Mrs. Laura Fowler, black jetted net over white satin. Mrs. John Campbell, turquoise blue chiffon and pearls.

The display of wedding gifts was especially superb and elaborate, including everything in the way of silver, cut glass and bric-a-brac to be desired, and filled one large upstairs room. It was a handsome testimonial to the wide-spread popularity of the couple, both at home and abroad. Numerous programs and cablegrams of congratulations were received during the evening.

IN A QUANDARY

DEMOCRATS FEAR THEY HAVE LOST CITY PERMANENTLY.

Are Already Thinking About Whom They Can Run for Mayor.

Since the election of yesterday the Democrats are getting their heads together on whom to nominate for mayor in the next municipal campaign. The Democrats are stirred up and already have doubts if they can elect a mayor in the next election. This time the ticket was clean and untrammelled and the Democrats voted it, in some instances straight, and on the other side they stamped under the log cabin.

Leading Democrats conceded that unless a man and not a politician is put up in the next municipal campaign that he will have no show. But they do not know whom to select. The present chief executive, Mayor D. A. Yeiser, is ineligible, as mayors cannot serve but one term consecutively.

On the other hand the Republicans will put up a clean man, with a record that cannot be approached, and his chances will be good. The city is gradually becoming Republican through the work of the men who are at the head of the party.

Does Your Chimney Smoke?

If so, you haven't a Wilson Heater and 40 per cent of the burnable part of the soft coal is escaping unburned in the form of smoke.

THE WILSON HEATER

with the celebrated Hot Blast Down-Draft, consumes these fumes and turns them into heat. This may be readily seen by the absence of smoke in the chimney when a Wilson is used.

You pay 100 per cent for your fuel; why not get 100 per cent value from it?
